Hospice house

Jim Henry and Don Dennis, board members of Ashley Oaks Villas, watch the construction of the Bud and Donna Somers Hospice House in Sebring. Good Shepherd Hospice is constructing a 16-bed facility in Florida Cracker-style architecture that features wide porches and a metal roof. The house will offer a residential environment with private rooms, baths and lanais, a dining area, family laundry facilities and a children's play area. Good Shepherd plans to open the house, located off Hammock Road, in early 2011.
